

Press Release: IU Professor Presents Design Exhibit in Thailand

Professor Jiangmei Wu is current exhibiting at Asian Talents: 10 Eco Designers, part of Thailand Innovation and Design Expo 2014, in Bangkok. Her exhibition is sponsored by Thailand Department of International Trade Promotion (DITP) and Thailand Institute of Design and Innovation Promotion. She is showcasing her latest design Booma table lamp series at the exhibit with some of the most talented young designers in Asia Pacific, including Tim Wigmore, Rebecca Asquith, Hans Tan, Jarrod Lim, Alvin Tjitrowirjo, Joshua Simandjuntak, inBetween and Sarthak Sengupta. The exhibition is curated by Anon Pairot, the founder of Anon Pairot Design Studio based in Bangkok.

From the Thailand Innovation and Design Expo 2014 Website:

The Thailand Innovation and Design Expo 2014 or. T.I.D.E. 2014, organized by the Department of International Trade Promotion, is in its second year and has become the leading exposition in the area of innovation, creativity and design. These industries are playing a greater role in maintaining Thailand's competitiveness in the global market and in order to pursue further development, it embark on transforming into a knowledge based economy with innovation, creativity and design as its key drivers....

[T.I.D.E. 2014] will comprise many exciting events that showcase Thailand's potential as a source of innovation, design and creativity. It is hoped that this event will highlight Thailand's potential as a valuable source of innovation, design and creativity, especially in the next generation of Thais and will also be an integral part of Thailand's development towards a Knowledge based economy.

<http://www.thailandinnodeign.com/about.php>